

ST PATRICK'S NEWS

Friday 7th February 2014

Are you

Next week is Internet Safety Week.

The internet has become an essential resource in education, business and social interaction and all children in St. Patrick's have access to the internet in school as an effective means of learning across all areas of the curriculum but safe use of the internet is a skill that is becoming increasingly necessary for children to learn. Many of our children are also accessing the internet at home for both school work and pleasure.

As part of Internet Safety Week each class will be learning different ways that the children can help themselves to keep safe online both in and out of school.

There are many websites that parents can access for advice and we will be running parents information sessions during our next parents evenings.

Please take time to talk to your children about keeping safe online whether it be via a computer, tablet or mobile phone.

Be safe. Be smart. Have fun online.

Welcome to Kira Leighton who has joined the school.
We hope you enjoy your time at St. Patrick's.

S SAFE Keep safe by being careful not to give out personal information – such as your full name, email address, phone number, home address, photos or school name – to people you are chatting with online.

M MEETING Meeting someone you have only been in touch with online can be dangerous. Only do so with your parents' or carers' permission and even then only when they can be present.

A ACCEPTING Accepting emails, IM messages, or opening files, pictures or texts from people you don't know or trust can lead to problems – they may contain viruses or nasty messages!

R RELIABLE Information you find on the internet may not be true, or someone online may be lying about who they are.

T TELL Tell your parent, carer or a trusted adult if someone or something makes you feel uncomfortable or worried, or if you or someone you know is being bullied online.
